HIGHWAY ROBBER KEPT CARD INDEX

RECORDED ALL HIS ROBBERIES
AND KEPT TAB ON AMOUNTS STOLEN AND HOW DISPOS-ED OF

By the Associated Press
CHICAGO, April 26.—Police today investigated an extensive card
index system found in the automobile shop of Harry J. James, after he had been killed in a fight with police. They said they believed robberies totaling $500,000 would be revealed and that more than $100,000 worth of loot already has been recovered. The index contained lists of places robbed, goods obtained, stolen articles sold to pawn shops and the valuables taken in highway robberies.

James was arrested last night as a detective saw him emerge from an opening between two buildings.
As the officer attempted to search him, a police station, he drew out a heavy automatic pistol and began shooting. A dozen policemen joined the fight before James fell with a bullet through his head.

First National Bank Fill a Vacancy and Advances Officers

At a meeting of the officers and directors of the First National Bank, held last Saturday, J. A. Smith, formerly cashier, was promoted to the position of vice president to succeed Tom King, lately resigned. C.
L. Griffith was elected cashier to succeed Mr. Smith and L. J. Fleming was made assistant cashier.

Both Griffith and Fleming were tellers at the bank and are thoroughly experienced in the art of banking. Mr. Smith's ability in any capacity that he might be placed is unquestioned, and his friends will be glad to know of his advancement.

P. A. Norris remains as president of the institution and M. D. Timberlake remains as vice president.

The First National lost a good man and mixer when Tom King resigned to go with a large banking institution at Okmulgee, at the same time the changes and advances made Saturday leaves the bank still in command of a splendid organization and one that will care for the business in the same splendid manner as has characterized the institution for the past several years.

GOVERNMENT WINS ANTI-TRUST SUITS

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 26.—The government today won its anti-trust suits against the Lehigh Valley and Reading company in the so-called anti-trust cases.

By a 4 to 3 vote, with Justices
McReynolds and Brandeis not participating, the court ordered the dissolution of the Reading combined.
Separate establishments of the Reading railroad, Reading Coal company and the Central Railroad of New Jersey and the Lehigh Valley and Wilkesbarre Coal company was ordered by the court.

The court sustained the government's charges that the railroad violated the "commodities clause" of the Interstate Commerce act. The Reading and Central Railroad of New Jersey, the court decided, must dispose of stock ownership in the Philadelphia Reading Coal & Iron company and the Lehigh and Wilkesbarre company.

THANK YOU.
Oklahoma City, Okla.,
April 20, 1920.
Editor Evening News,
Ada, Oklahoma.
Dear Sir:
I have read and re-read your
"Judas and His Silver." It is magnificent and should be reproduced in every part of the country.

I endorse every word expressed therein. If I added anything to it I would have to do a great deal of cursing. To think that our national legislators have become so debased that the dollar mark is more attractive to them than the honor and glory of American manhood.

I wish you all kinds of success, and with very kindest
personal regards, I am,
Yours very sincerely,
BEN F. LAFAYETTE,
Chairman, Democratic State
Central Committee.

SEVEN HUNDRED ROBBERIES FOUND

EXAMINATION OF THE EFFECTS OF HARRY J. JAMES CLEARS UP MYSTERY OF LONG STANDING

By the Associated Press
Chicago, April 26.—Seven hundred robberies, the loot of which is believed to have totaled more than $500,000 were cleared up today
when the police examined the effects of Harry J. James, "silk masked burglar," who was killed last night after "shooting up" the city hall police station and wounding two patrolmen.

In a private warehouse where oriental rugs, jewelry, typewriters and dozens of other articles were found the police uncovered a card index in which the seven hundred robberies were listed, together with the loot obtained.

Another section of the card index contained "prospects," and the wealth of data about each indicated that James had used the card of an electric light inspector, found in his pocket, to gain entrance to the houses.

The third file contained a list of Lake Shore Drive automobiles, with descriptions, license numbers, the owners names and "fair," "good" or
"swell" to indicate the valuation.

In a secret chamber in the basement of the warehouse were 150
oriental rugs appraised by an expert at $40,000.

Realty Market Is Becoming Stable Dealers Believe

Less of aimless speculation and a greater percentage of earnest buyers among the persons inquiring to real estate brokers during the past week have led many dealers to believe that the market is assuming a more stable position. While the number of prospects has decreased
real estate men are well satisfied with the different attitude taken by the buyers toward closing deals.

Previous to April 1 there were a great number of persons looking at real estate and inquiring about prices with apparently no intention of buying, and in many cases with no visible means with which to buy
if they had desired. Their activities were characterized by an attitude of inquiry and hesitation, dealers report. Many are reported to have looked over the listings, taken a ride out over the city inspecting houses and other property, only to leave without showing any intention of buying and depart, after long discussion without returning.

Since April 1 the buyers have not been so numerous but more in earnest. It has been estimated that 90 percent of the prospects so far during the month have been people who would buy and were able to make payments if the proper piece of real estate were shown them and the proper terms offered. The percent of earnest buyers among the prospects before April 1 has been estimated at 60.

NO CLUE OF THE GIRL MURDERER

DEATH OF GIRL WHO WAS THOUGHT TO HAVE BEEN CHOKED STILL REMAINS A MYSTERY.

By the Associated Press
PONTIAC, Mich., April 26.—City and county authorities early today
were still without a definite clue
as to the identity of the murderer of Miss Vera Schneider, 19 year old telephone supervisor, found early Sunday morning on the porch of an unoccupied dwelling house apparently choked to death. The arrival of blood hounds from Manchester,
Ohio, was awaited this morning.
The animals will be given every assistance in tracing the murderer.
The police roped off the space around the house to keep the crowds from destroying the footprints. The authorities have not yet obtained a description of the man with whom Miss Schneider was said to have been seen with about midnight Saturday night.

Judge J. W. Bolen Spoke to Large Crowd On Streets Saturday

As had been previously announced, District Judge J. W. Bolen, at the request of some of the old Confederate Veterans and others who are circulating petitions to have the legislature's action ratifying the Supreme E. Anthony national suffrage amendment referred to the people of the state, spoke on Main Street
to a large and attentive audience
Saturday afternoon.

The judge began his address
shortly after 2:30, the announced time, but had not spoken more than half an hour when a heavy downpour of rain dispersed the crowd and forced him to discontinue his address. The crowd remained in near by shelter, however, and when the shower was over insisted that he resume his speech, which he did,
and for more than an hour and a half he entertained his hearers in what was pronounced by many as the most eloquent speech he has ever delivered in the city.

The judge contended that the equal suffrage amendment to the federal constitution was an abridement
of the time honored principles of states rights and was another step in the direction of centralization of power too much of which we already have.

The judge declared that he was unalterably in favor of woman suffrage in Oklahoma, and in every other state where white people are in supremacy, but he declared that the regulation of suffrage was purely a function of the state and that the national equal suffrage would lead to certain disaster in the south.

He lauded the old south in most eloquent terms and paid many tributes of respect and honor to the old Confederate Veterans. "When I was a young man I determined that I would never refuse to do anything that a Confederate Veteran asked me to do," said the judge.

In the climax of his address
Judge Bolen paid a most fervent tribute to Attorney General Prince Freeling, designating him as the states rights champion of Oklahoma and one of the brainiest men of the new state.

"Mr. Freeling dared to stand for his convictions in the equal suffrage issue regardless of the fact that he is a candidate for public office, and should command the respect of every patriotic citizen of the south,"
said Judge Bolen.

The judge's address closed amid deafening cheers and before the crowd had dispersed many hundreds of names were secured to the referendum petitions.

NO INTER-CHURCH DRIVE MADE IN ADA

The drive for funds for the Interchurch World Movement, which was scheduled for this week, has not been made and it is not likely that it will be made.

Mr. Berg, district director, from Poteau, was in the city Friday and it is said a meeting of the county committee was held but no steps were taken to conduct the drive.

The quota for Pontotoc county in the movement is said to have been $18,000. It was the intention of the committee to get as much of this as possible from men who are not members of any church, but who are interested in Christianity to the extent of contributing of their means to help carry it around the world.
It is not known when the drive will be made.

LABOR BOARD WON'T LISTEN

REFUSES TO HEAR WAGE DE-MANDS OF KANSAS CITY YARD
MEN ON TECHNICAL GROUNDS

By the Associated Press
WASHINGTON, April 26.—The railroad labor board today refused to hear the wage demands of the Kansas City yardmen's association,
on the ground that the application did not conform to the law. Hearings on the demands of strikers in the Chicago, St. Louis, Cleveland and New York districts previously had been refused by the board.

Replying to telegrams from numerous chambers of commerce asking a speedy settlement of the railroad wage dispute, the board announced that it was proceeding with all diligence to make an early settlement.

The board continued its hearing on the wage demands of the brotherhoods. Fraha, vice president of the brotherhood of locomotive firemen,
told the board that additional pay for railroad workers would not increase the cost of living unless the excuse was seized upon by profiteers.

Young Men's Club Has Been Formed; Is Named Ruf-Neks

In the past few days a new organization has made its appearance in Ada. The object of the club is to encourage good clean sports, to have a recreation hall for the profitable spending of leisure hours and for the physical and social development of Ada's young men.

The first meeting of the new club was held at the Ada News office yesterday afternoon and in spite of the inclemency of the weather
quite a few were present to help in the preliminary work of organization.

The name "Ruf-Neks" was chosen as the title of the organization, not as indication of their viciousness at heart nor a reflection on their character, but as the title of a bunch of good "scates" who feel that there is a need of such an organization here. Matters pertaining to quarters and furnishings were taken up at the meeting and the location of their club rooms will be known definitely this week.

The next meeting will be held at
The Unique Electric Shop on Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at which time the organization will be perfected and the following officers will be elected: Chief Nek, Vice Nek, Keeper of the Cash, Scribe
and an Executive Committee of three.
Ruf-Neks. All members present at this time will be charter members.

RAISING RABBITS IS PROFITABLE BUSINESS

Few people realize the possibilities for fame and fortune in the cultivation and sale of rabbits. An investigation discloses the fact that this industry can be carried on in Ada with less difficulty than that of raising chickens and far more profitably.

Among those who are trying out
the rabbit business in Ada is Dr.
F. R. Banks, of 122 East Twelfth street. Dr. Banks has been experimenting with rabbits for about four years and the success he has had is noteworthy.

He has in his yard today about 100 rabbits. In the collection are New Zealand Reds, Malaysians, and just plain rabbits. He has no registered stock. Dr. Banks has 10 pens of the rabbits and he gets a great deal of pleasure from their cultivation.

Dr. Banks says they feed the rabbits any kind of hay, green feed, potato peelings, and all kinds of scraps so long as they are clean.
The rabbits will eat nothing unless it is clean food. The cost of the food for raising the rabbits is very small, much less than that of raising chickens.

Rabbits are very prolific in their breeding. They breed every 30 days if permitted to do so and the number runs on an average of from 4 to 12. They breed in cold weather better than in warm. Professional rabbit breeders do not permit breeding often than four times each year.

The average rabbit will weigh 8 pounds at five months old and the price will run from 30c to 40c per pound. With a doe breeding a litter of eight rabbits four times a year
the breeder will have an income of around $100. What hen can bring such an income as this?

Visitors are welcome at Dr.
Banks' rabbit pens.

BODY OF DEAD NAVAL OFFICER IS ON WAY HOME

By the Associated Press
GUANTANAMO BAY, Cuba, April
26.—The body of Rear Admiral Carlo B. Brittain, chief of staff of the commander-in-chief of the Atlantic fleet, who committed suicide by shooting on Thursday last, is due to arrive at Washington tomorrow
on the hospital ship "Solace."

Rear Admiral Brittain was in poor health and was confined to his bed when the fleet left New York on January 7th and until after its arrival in Cuba. He was an untiring worker and it is believed his illness caused mental strain to the breaking point.

Masons, Notice.
Regular monthly meeting tonight,
7:45. Visiting brethren welcome.

TOMORROW OHIO WILL STAGE FIGHT

HARDING AND WOOD WILL LOCK HORNS IN OHIO TO-MORROW IN HOTTEST FIGHT
IN STATE'S HISTORY

By the Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., April 26.—One of the hottest fights waged within the ranks of the Republican party in Ohio in years is expected to be decided in the state-wide Presidential Primary tomorrow when Warren
G. Harding, senior United States
Senator from this state, and Major General Leonard Wood, contend for Republican preference and the delegation to the Chicago convention.

A complete list of candidates for district delegates and delegates-at-large, pledged to Senator Harding,
is on the ballots while candidates for delegates, pledged to General
Wood, have been entered in all except three of the districts and two candidates, avowedly for General Wood, are running for delegates-at-large.

The Harding candidates for delegates-at-large are former governors
Frank B. Willis and Myron T. Herrick; Mayor John Galvin, of Cincinnati and H. M. Daugherty, an attorney of Columbus. The Wood delegates-at-large candidates are former Attorney General Edward C. Turner, of Columbus and Attorney William H. Boyd, of Cleveland. Four are to be elected.

In general the Wood organization is headed by men who were prominent in the Progressive party in 1912. Senator Harding's campaign for the most part is in the hands of men affiliated with local party organizations.

While there are no distinct sets of Wood candidates for delegates in the two Cincinnati districts, the candidates in these districts, are pledged to Harding as first choice and to Wood as second choice. In the three Cleveland districts the Harding candidates are pledged to Senator Hiram Johnson as second choice while the Wood delegates are pledged to James R. Garfield as second choice.

So far as the Democratic party is concerned Governor James M. Cox has a clear field without opposition,
for all candidates for delegates are pledged to him. Local conditions, however, have resulted in contests
for district delegates in a few districts. In the Sixteenth district (Canton) the wet and dry question was brought forward as an issue and resulted in several candidates being entered.

ANOTHER PROFESSIONAL NURSE ENDORSES TANLAC

Mrs. Minnick Declares She Is Enjoying Good Health For First Time in Sixteen Years.

OFTEN LAY AWAKE ALL NIGHT LONG

Says Her Troubles Have Ended Since Taking Tanlac and She Has Gained Twenty Pounds.

Mrs. Alice Minnick, who has been a professional nurse for thirty-six years and resides at 1815 Twenty-third Ave., Seattle, Wash., adds her voice to the hundreds of others in this profession who have already endorsed Tanlac.

"Since I began taking Tanlac I have not only gained twenty pounds in weight, but for the first time in sixteen years I am free of pain and enjoying good health," stated Mrs. Minnick. "I constantly had cramping, gnawing pains in my stomach all these years, my appetite was extremely poor and the little I did eat caused me great distress. After every meal my food began to ferment and sour almost at once. I would bloat up with gas, and those terrible pains would get so bad I could hardly stand them. I became badly rundown, lost weight and strength, and felt so tired and worn out all the time I could hardly get around. I had pains in every part of my body just about all the time, but they were especially bad in the small of my back. I also suffered with severe headaches and dizzy spells and my nerves were so badly upset I could get but little sleep, often lying awake all night long.

"I had heard so much of the good Tanlac was doing others I decided to try it myself, and it proved to be the very thing I needed. I began to improve right away. It was only a few days before my appetite returned and I can now eat anything I want without having a particle of trouble afterwards. Those terrible gnawing pains that had troubled me so many years have entirely disappeared. I never have a headache or become dizzy, and the pains that were throughout my body have all gone. In fact, my whole system has been built up by Tanlac. I have regained my strength so I can do my work as a nurse, without a particle of trouble. Several of my patients have taken Tanlac, and it has proven beneficial in every case. After what Tanlac has done for me I can never say enough for it."

Tanlac is sold in Ada by Gwin & Mays Drug Co., in Stonewall by L. P. Carpenter, in Francis by Francis Drug Co., and in Roff by Dowdy's Pharmacy.

EDITORS TO MEET IN M'ALESTER

SECRETARY BRONSON REPORTS THAT SCRIBES WILL BE SHOWN TIME OF THEIR LIVES MAY 7-8.

By News Special Service

NORMAN, Okla., April 26.—As hosts to the Oklahoma Press association on May 7 and 8, the city of McAlester is making every effort to give the press fraternity the best time in annals of the editors' meetings. This was the word brought back from McAlester by E. S. Bronson, secretary-treasurer of the association, who completed all preliminary arrangements, the latter part of last week.

According to the program arranged the convention will be a continuous round of pleasures from the opening address on Friday morning to the closing dance Saturday evening. Following a business session Friday morning, the guests will be taken to the state penitentiary for luncheon. While this is in progress music will be furnished by the prison band, with numbers by negro singers and dancers interspersed.

Late Friday afternoon a brilliant pageant is promised to the editors, when "Oklahoma" in five epochs will be shown by the Fortnightly club, which is now putting the finishing touches on one of the most elaborate spectacles ever shown in the state. Starting with the period of exploration and discovery, the entertainment will portray every epoch in the history of the state. Nothing is being returned to make the pageant correct and exact to the most minute detail. Elaborate costumes and numerous athletic dances will mark the spectacle.

Nearly five hundred persons taking part in the production will pass across the stage and pay homage to the "Spirit of Oklahoma," who will be enthroned on the center of the stage. The cast will include scores of children, ranging from the kindergarten to the high school. High school girls are being trained for the many dances.

The production is being financed by McAlester business men and the entertainment will be staged in the open at Chadick park.

Another big feature of the association is scheduled for Friday night when a gridiron banquet, the first ever attempted in any of the meetings, will be given at the association headquarters, the Busby hotel. Among those who will speak will be W. R. Martineau, Walter Ferguson, U. S. Russell, W. P. McDowell, J. W. Kayser, W. M. Harrison, G. B. Parker, and Wayne Campbell, and a number of the prominent state officials and newspaper men will be raked over the coals.

A cabaret program of similar nature, has never been forgotten by those who attended the association at Muskogee in 1912, and the McAlester event is expected to mark a new step in the association, when the most famous funny men of the state will entertain.

A number of business matters are to come before the meeting to be held on Saturday morning, May 8, after which noon luncheon will be served in the Masonic temple, one block from the Busby hotel.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the principal industry of the McAlester district will be shown to the guests, when they will be furnished with suits of overalls and taken for a trip to the coal mines. A barbecue of beef and fish will be waiting for the press members in Chadick park upon their return from the mines, the fish being a native product caught from a lake nearby.

A musical treat of a concert by the glee club of the University of Oklahoma will be given following the barbecue, followed by a 30-minute speech by Burrus Jenkins of the Kansas City Post. The customary press association ball will close the festivities of the 1920 association at the McAlester country club, beginning at 10 P. M.

All business sessions of the meeting will be held in the Masonic temple. Several hundred dollars are to be spent by McAlester for decorations in preparation for the coming of the editors.

Political Pot

From all present indications the fights for democratic and republican nominations for the presidency are going to be spectacular and memorable one. What has already transpired in the state primaries gives indication of what is in store.

Yesterday's results in Georgia when Attorney General Palmer led the democratic ticket but was closely followed by Tom Watson and Hoke Smith and yesterday's results in Nebraska when William Jennings Bryan showed great strength, prove conclusively that the democratic nomination is going to be much in doubt until the final call at the San Francisco convention.

McAdoo's strength in Michigan has heartened his followers to such an extent that he is being pushed vigorously to the front now, while it must be said that Palmer's failure to curb profiteering and to check the H. C. L. has hurt him over the country.

The fact that McAdoo is closely allied to the present administration not only from a legislative standpoint but from a domestic standpoint has helped him more than it has helped him. Thousands of persons in the United States want a new deal in politics and the McAdoo boom has met hard opposition wherever it has been launched.

Cox Coming Strong.

The presidential poll of the Literary Digest has shown a surprisingly large following for Governor Cox, of Ohio. With no organization to speak of behind him, the Ohioan has made his personality felt from one end of the land to the other. His record, clean as a hound's tooth and one of constructive legislation has made many believe that he is certain to be a large factor at the democratic convention.

While our own Senator Owen has not scored to any great extent in the primaries of the country, he is being mentioned more and more. Bryan's endorsement of Senator Owen has helped him mightily throughout the nation.

And political prognosticators are watching Bryan at this time, no doubt about it. It is claimed that the San Francisco convention is going to be a repetition of the 1912 meeting except that Bryan will be opposed by the Wilson forces this time instead of lined up with them. This being the case, voters may expect one of the greatest political fights of history.

It is known that Bryan is opposed to the old line administration and it is conceded that if President Wilson is able to attend the San Francisco convention that he will attempt to exert his influence one way or the other.

Already the battle lines are outlined between the democratic and republican parties. Republicans long ago made the league of nations an issue. War extravagance is of course another. Homer Cummings, democratic committeeman, in what is considered a keynote address Tuesday night attacked the republicans for their financial practices and condemned their stand on the league.

No Constructive Issues.

Just what constructive issues will be adopted is not given out as yet, but parties seemingly playing a game of "safety first."

Several prospective candidates in republican ranks are developing unlooked for strength. Particularly is this true of Hiram Johnson, the progressive republican candidate. His lead in Nebraska, his showing of strength in Minnesota and in Michigan give a new angle to what looked at first to be a two-cornered fight between Wood and Lowden. Wood's showing is gratifying to his friends although it must be admitted that his strength is waning. The country's outcry against universal military training has cast a damper on the Wood boom to a certain extent.

Lowden has not developed for strength. While he carried Illinois, this was no more than he looked for. He has not shown up in other sections as had been contemplated.

Shoe and Leather Reporter Says Prices Will Not Fall Soon

The Shoe and Leather Reporter in its last issue says: "There is NOTHING in the economic situation to justify any prediction that leather and shoes will be cheaper for a long time to come. There is nothing to prevent imports or to stop our domestic supply of hides and skins from flowing out of the country. The agreement between the big packers and the government is not likely to induce lower prices for hides and skins. Under the new arrangement the packers have received an immunity bath. They will now sell their hides under strictly mercantile conditions and will hold for the highest rates the market affords. After compelling them to scramble their manifold interests it will NOT be possible to prevent them from exacting 'all the traffic will stand.'"

The Shoe Retailer in its last issue says: "Present high prices WILL BE MAINTAINED FOR A YEAR OR MORE—those manufacturers who use the best of materials in their shoes will be COMPELLED TO INCREASE their prices in the near future—those merchants with unfilled orders to their credit are likely indeed as they will be gainers at the rate of from 35c to $1 per pair. Calfskins which sold at 28c a foot, now cost from $1.40 to $1.60 per foot and another advance is pending. There is a great SHORTAGE of good shoes. Neither retailers nor consumers should be misled into the belief that shoes will be cheaper as in the NEAR future good shoes will cost considerably MORE than at present."

Hide and Leather in its last issue says: "Both packer and country hides are worth more money today than ever. The general INCREASED strength in raw stock values has stimulated activity in leather buying. The demand is for the HIGH grades of footwear and there is NOT a sufficient quantity of high grade leather in the country to supply the demand. In spite of the fact that shoe manufacturers are making every effort to increase their production, reliable statistics show that the production per man is on the decline. The public should NOT be misled or led to believe that prices will be lower for some time to come, because there is EVERY reason to substantiate the contention that prices on good footwear will INCREASE from 50 cents to $1.00 per pair, before this selling season is over."

Why Not Get Into the Watermelon Game as A Good Side Line?

Is your local market well supplied with watermelons? If not, a profitable sideline to general farming may be taken up.

As everyone knows, the watermelon succeeds best when planted in sandy soil. If they must be planted in loam, plant the seeds in hills a little above the level of the surrounding soil.

A good forkful of compost in the hill has the effect of starting the plants off quickly. Nitrate of soda or ammonium sulphate will accomplish the same purpose, and may be purchased for use when compost is not available.

Plenty of space between the hills must be allowed—8 feet is not too much. Plant ten or twelve seeds in a hill and thin to two strong plants. If the soil is heavy, cut out the plants which are to be removed and thereby avoid disturbing the plants which are to make up the hill.

Cultivate frequently during the early part of the season; later cultivation will be impossible. In windy sections a row of cowpeas may be sown between every two rows of melons. This lessens the blowing of soil and provides anchors for the vines.

An early crop may be secured by the use of glass. Seed should be sown in pots or tin cans about a month before the time when melons may be safely planted outside. In transplanting, the soil about the roots of the plants must not be disturbed.

Popular varieties are Kleckley Sweet and Halbert Honey for home use, and Tom Watson, Gipsy or Rattlesnake for shipping.

FATE OF PEACE YET IN DOUBT

FUTILITY OF PEACE RESOLUTION IS CLEARLY SHOWN BY REPRESENTATIVE BARKLEY OF KENTUCKY

By News Special Service

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 25.—Uncertainty exists here as to what will be the ultimate fate in the Senate of the so-called peace resolution which leaders in the upper chamber have failed to press for consideration up to this time. Although this resolution passed the House by a partisan vote early in April, the Republican majority in the Senate appears to be making time, notwithstanding claims made in the lower body that it was an emergency measure.

During the debate in the House Democrats who question both the constitutionality and wisdom of the peace resolution expressed doubt that the Senate would expedite its passage. Some went so far as to predict that the resolution would be allowed to sleep in the upper chamber for many weeks or months. If it was ever brought up for action, and that its consideration in the House under a rule limiting debate and precluding amendment was a political play intended to embarrass the Administration following the Senate's refusal to accept the peace treaty.

One of the strongest House arguments designed to show the futility of the passage of such a resolution was that presented by Representative A. W. Barkley, of Kentucky, one of the constitutional lawyers of the lower chamber. Contending that the peace resolution would be ineffective, even if adopted, and that Congress had nothing to do with making peace by mere resolution, Representative Barkley said in part:

"After this resolution shall have been adopted, if it should be signed by the President, or if he vetoes it and it should pass over his veto, then do our Republican friends propose to adopt another resolution appointing a Congressional messenger to journey to Berlin and knock on the door of the German Reichstag and announce to them in stentorian tones that the American Congress has passed this resolution restoring peace, and ask the German Government to concur in the same, and that they have only 45 days in which to do it. Do you intend to send the Sergeant at Arms over with it, or our genial and accommodating Doorkeeper, or will it be the Clerk of the House? Or, better still, will the 'steering committee' accompany the precious document. I have waited in vain for some good and wise Republican to announce to us the procedure which will be adopted in order to get this thing officially before the German Government, which is asked to concur in it. No such announcement has been forth coming. None will be, for there is no power now, and there has never been any power, by which Congress, as the legislative body of the Nation, can conduct any sort of diplomatic communication with the German Government, or any other Government, either in war or in peace. If Congress can not conduct diplomatic communications with the German Government, it can not officially notify Germany of the passage of this or any other resolution, and it will have no effect whatever, and every body on both sides of this House knows that, if he has any intelligence whatever. "Therefore, if we have the power to substitute this resolution for the treaty of peace, then we have the power by congressional resolution to restore diplomatic relations, and if we have that power, then Congress can appoint an Ambassador and other diplomatic and consular officers, even over the objection of the President, and send them to the German Government, and thus restore all the relations which existed before we entered the war."

SMOKING AND CHATting FOR MASS. SHOE MEN

By the Associated Press

MALDEN, Mass., April 25.—Smoking and chatting periods have been introduced at a local shoe factory in an effort to increase efficiency. Several ideas eliminating unnecessary processes have been adopted and other suggestions aimed at time-saving are being tried out.

Some of the operatives, it is said, did not take kindly to the experiments and were wondering dubiously what the next attempt of the management to obtain a short-cut to production would be. It came in unexpected form and the employees are now discussing that latest idea over their pipes and their knitting "on the company's time."

Their speculation over the next efficiency plan was answered by the following announcement: "Production must be increased. Quality must be improved. Beginning tomorrow, operations will be suspended twice daily to allow operatives to rest."

During these periods, which begin at 10 in the morning, and 3 in the afternoon, the power of the plant is shut off and the wheels are stopped while the men smoke and the women chat or knit. Then the whirr of the machinery begins again and the workers return to their task of making shoes.

When to File.

Candidates for state offices must file with the secretary of the state election board not more than 100 days before, nor less than 50 days, before the date set for the primary which this year will be held on the 3rd day of August. This means that you must file between April 25th and June 14th.

Candidate for county offices must file with the secretary of the county election board not more than 90 days and not less than 30 before the date set for the primary election, according to an announcement given out by Judge C. T. Barney, chairman of the Pontotoc County Election Board yesterday. All political aspirants will please act accordingly.

How to Interest Buyers

Wm. Dee Little.

From Farm and Ranch:

A few months ago I was in Raleigh, North Carolina, and ate butter from the table of a resident there, the butter having been produced in the mountains of Western North Carolina and sent to Raleigh in one-pound cartons by parcel post.

About a year ago a friend of mine sent me a package of fresh vegetables from his garden by parcel post. The package contained a complete assortment of vegetables which grow here in the fall.

These two instances are but examples of what is taking place every day throughout the country, and represent a principle on which the high cost of living could be kicked out of existence and the producer get better returns from his labor.

There are limitations to it, I will admit, but the parcel post offers a great opportunity to the farmer who is too far away from the market to carry his produce from day to day, or often enough to deliver it fresh.

It seems to me that there has been and is still existent a feeling that the farmer cannot or will not do business by mail. I know farmers who will not send a check through the mail, but wait several weeks until they can get to town to pay a small account. There is, of course, no reason for this feeling.

There are business men who do business entirely by mail. It is just as cheap and usually the records are kept more accurately when money is paid by mail than when it is paid in person. A merchant in Dallas will probably buy thousands of dollars worth of goods each season by mail. The whole transaction is handled through the mail, the cheapest and most dependable messenger on earth. The newspaper handles a big part of its business through the mail. Even in the same town it is cheaper to send bills by mail than it is to send a collector two blocks for the money.

I give these facts to show that the mail business is nothing new, and there is no reason why the farmer should not develop a business through it, just as other business men do. It is cheaper to send a few pounds of butter through the mail than it is to deliver it in person. Of course, for handling such produce as butter there must be a suitable carton provided.

The inhabitants of Prince Georges and Saint Marys counties in Maryland a few years ago were struggling to get along without mail advantages and were selling their produce as best they could when they could get it to the market. The United States government established a parcel post motor truck route through those counties and thereby opened a way for the farmers to get to market while the produce was fresh.

The farmers now daily ship into Washington, D. C., dressed poultry, eggs, and a full line of farm produce. While the average resident of Washington was paying 72 cents a dozen for fresh eggs, those residents able to get supplies from the country direct, were paying only 55 to 58 cents. At the same time the farmers on the routes were getting considerably more for their produce than those who depended upon the general market for their source of revenue.

The parcel post motor truck service has not been established in many communities, but there is little doubt that the matter will be pushed through as fast as the communities demand the equipment and the citizens of the towns show their willingness to handle the produce after it is delivered.

This simply means that the farmer can get the city markets by means of publicity. One man figures he is located twenty-five miles from any market and can see no opportunity to dispose of his stuff, believing it is impossible to make connections with reliable persons. Advertising is the route to go. There is a saying among business men that there is a market for everything worth while, and the only problem is finding a buyer. When a person spends a few cents and inserts a good advertisement in a good newspaper or farm journal it is very likely that the buyer will be found.

The advertising game, too, offers wonderful possibilities for the man who wants to try something new. In the manufacturing world, the person who makes the most money is one who either gets something new to manufacture or uses new and cheaper methods in the manufacture of an article already well known.

Joseph Pulitzer made his millions by using new methods in publishing newspapers. The farmer who succeeds better than his neighbor either uses better methods of cultivation or gets a new kind of crop that will produce more to the acre and the amount of labor expended.

H. C. Lookabaugh of Watonga, Oklahoma, has made a half million dollars by raising registered Shorthorn cattle. He could never have made this money, however, if he had kept the secret to himself. In order to make the most money, he had to let others into the secret by charging them good prices for his well-bred stock.

The breeding of pedigreed rabbits, such as Belgian hares, New Zealand Reds and Flemish Giants, I believe will make good money for many people in the Southwest in the next few years. The most money will go to the man who gets the best stock and then lets the world, through the advertising columns of farm journals or newspapers, know about the stock.

The doing of the ordinary thing is good advertising in itself. You probably have often wondered why the newspapers tell about the murders, about the woman of shame, about the swindler and about the thousand and one kinds of crime. Probably you have heard newspapers condemned for such practices, but if you will stop and think a minute you will see that the newspapers are right about it.

To be good news a story must be interesting. To be interesting a story must be different. Suppose a newspaper were to print from day to day the account of a preacher's sermon, and the account of the school teacher's activities. There would be very little difference in the story from day to day. The fact that it is not sensational or different shows these men are doing their duty. As long as a woman is pure, there is no news, for most women are that way. As long as a person walks on two feet, there is no news value about it, due to the fact that almost every one walks that way. If some person with only one foot, however, were to go down the street without the aid of crutches or stick, there would be a news story, for it would be a new thing in life.

If a preacher tells of the great truths of the religion of Christ he is not doing that which is unusual. If, on the other hand, he strays away from such teachings and advocates the drinking of whiskey, or the lynching of some citizen, he has then broken into the news column. The man who makes twenty bushels of corn to the acre has done nothing interesting, but when he makes 150 bushels he has broken into the news. The best advertising, therefore, is something different from the common run of things. If a person can do something different and produce an article that the people can use and will let the fact be known, he ought to have no trouble in finding a market.

Some of these days, I believe a cotton manufacturer with vision will advertise for cotton to be sold direct by the producer. He will save considerable money, if he can buy in this way and know that he is getting a certain grade. Of course, the details of such a scheme would have to be worked out, but there can be no doubt that there are many men between the grower of cotton and the manufacturer. Publicity will put the grower and manufacturer together, if they want to get together.

I have often wondered why the real estate man happened to become a part of our business life. He is a middleman of value purely because the average land owner or buyer of land knows nothing of advertising. The real estate man, by advertising, has made a distinct place for himself.

This is a day of combination and co-operation. It is also a day of advertising. Separately either is a valuable force. Together they are almost unbeatable. With the aid of the parcel post or shipping organizations, advertising will help put the producer and the consumer close together, even though actually they are many score miles apart.

BETTY AND BILLY NO GOOD AT FIRES; BACK TO THE FARM

By the Associated Press.

CLINTON, Mass., April 26.—"Betty" and "Billy" have gone back to the farm and Clinton's fire department has returned to its motorized efficiency. An upstanding pair of browns, the horses were the pride of the fire-fighters until they became the cause of their disgrace.

Sleek and fat from a farm in an adjoining town, they were obtained to pull the town's old fire-engine while the new motor apparatus was being repaired. The browns swept out of the engine-house to their first fire in a manner to make old firemen speak with happy reminiscence of the horse-drawn days. Then came a night alarm.

Back on the farm, "Betty" and "Billy" had been accustomed not to stir from sundown to sunrise, and no din of fire-gong or urging by anxious firemen would move them to answer the alarm. All the fire department's split-second aids to a quick start were lost on the browns. They refused to budge, the firemen had to go to the blaze with chemical lines, and the town folks laughed.

The firemen vowed the thing would not happen again and the horses were put through a stiff training. They went to the day fires with spirit, and the fire crew hoped they understood. But another night alarm came, and again "Betty" and "Billy" would not move; once more the firemen went afoot, hose in hand, and again the town laughed at their discomfiture. The next day "Betty" and "Billy" went back to the farm.

11-Year Old Girl Married

At the court house Tuesday, Rev. M. P. Dilbeck was given an examining trial in the office of County Attorney French. Rev. Dilbeck was held on a charge of "performing an unlawful marriage."

It seems that on January 5, Cecil Lowery, giving his age as 22, procured a marriage license to wed Miss Pearl Green, giving her age as 18. It later developed that the child was only eleven years old and that her mother lived in Hugo. The girl was here on a visit to relatives near Milburn. After the arrest of the husband, the girl was returned to her mother in Hugo.

The marriage was witnessed by R. H. Lowery, Bessie Lowery and A. D. Lowery. Rev. Dilbeck, who resides near Milburn, said that "the license showed the girl to be 18 years old." After hearing the testimony in the case County Judge Crowell held the defendant, Rev. Dilbeck, under a $250 bond.

The young husband, Cecil Lowery is still in jail. Deputy Sheriff Richardson accompanied the child to Hugo.—Tishomingo Capital-Democrat.

Just Where and How Is the Money to be Spent?

A businesslike Answer to a businesslike Question

THIRTY denominations cooperating in the Inter-church World Movement have budgeted their needs. No business could have done it more scientifically.

They have united to prevent the possibility of duplication or waste. At least a million dollars will be saved by the fact that thirty individual campaigns are joined in one united effort.

Each denomination has arranged its budget under six main heads:

- 1 FOR THE CHURCH'S WORK AT HOME. A score of them come under this head. Consider only one. Five and a half million people in the United States cannot even read and write the English language. Who is to carry forward this vast work of Americanization if the church does not?
- 2 FOR HOSPITALS AND HOMES. Every year thousands of men and women seriously ill are turned away from Church hospitals because of lack of room. The children's homes are compelled to turn away more children than they can receive.
- 3 FOR HIGHER EDUCATION. Of the 450,000 American students in institutions of higher grade, one-half are in institutions founded and supported by the Churches. Many of these institutions have had no great endowment campaigns, but their needs are just as pressing as the needs of larger schools; and you have only to turn to their list of alumni and alumnae to measure the value of their contribution to America.
- 4 FOR RELIGIOUS TRAINING. At least 12,000,000 children and young people under 25 years of age are entering American life without any religious training at all. Remembering the faith of Washington and Lincoln, do you think that America will continue to produce Washingtons and Lincolns if faith dies out of the hearts of its youth?
- 5 FOR THE CHURCH'S WORK ABROAD. Influenza came first from the Orient thirty years ago; nearly all plagues are Oriental plagues. So long as China has only one physician to every 400,000 people the Orient will continue to be a menace. So long as one-third of the babies of India die before their second year our own babies are not safe. A Christian doctor or teacher sent abroad is working for America as truly as though he worked at home.
- 6 PREACHERS' SALARIES. The preacher is called the "forgotten man," and well he may be. Eight out of ten preachers are paid less than $20 a week!

Each denomination has its own detailed budget, and will administer its own funds. Your pastor has copies of the budget; examine them for yourself. In the week of April 25th-May 2nd you will be given your opportunity to help. You can do it with the full satisfaction of knowing that every dollar of your gift has its post assigned to it in advance.

Every dollar for better America and a better world. When your church calls on you give—and give with your heart as well as your pocket-book.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth"—bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c

SYMPATHY WITH MILITARISTIC GERMANY

Senator Gore announced at Tulsa last week that he favored a separate peace with Germany. The "Man-of-many-promises" is running true to his war-period form, notwithstanding the bitter criticism of his bad war record by the loyal citizens of Oklahoma. It will be recalled that the German press lauded his acts during the war and his latest stand for a separate peace with the enemy without doubt will be applauded by the militaristic class of Germany, for we read the following dispatch from Berlin in the New York World:

"The passage by the House of Representatives of the resolution ending the state of war with Germany makes a hit with Germany's reactionaries, with militarists, monarchists, Pan-Germans and Nationalists generally.

"They expect the United States Senate to follow suit, and see in a prospective separate German-American peace new vistas opening now speculates hopefully on the break-up of the Allied and Associated governments combination and particularly on progressive opposition between America and Great Britain."

The Pan-German Deutsche Zeitung says:

"Under the pressure of American financial circles and UNDER THE NEW ENERGETIC PARTICIPATION OF GERMAN-AMERICANS, the United States Senate too must put an end to a state of war."

There, perhaps, we have the real reason for Senator Gore's advocacy of a separate peace with Germany, viz: UNDER THE ENERGETIC PARTICIPATION OF GERMAN-AMERICANS." During the war the Senator was quick to respond to I. W. W. and Pro-German desires. There is no reason to believe he has lost his trait.

It has been consistently maintained, and the thinking American has realized, that Germany has been conducting insidious propaganda against the League of Nations in an effort to bring about a split between the United States and her allies in the war, in order that Germany might secure a separate peace with us.

Senator Gore persistently played the pro-German's game during the war. He seems to have no hesitancy about doing so now.

Most people deny that congress will be building monuments to Hindenburg and the Crown Prince two years hence. But very few people believed two years ago that congress would thus early be denouncing the murderous peace imposed on Germany and declaring a separate peace with Germany in order to get German trade.

Simms probably never will forgive the United States for winning the war without permitting him to run the war. He did not think that it could be done without his personal management and is a mighty sore man to find out that he was mistaken.

Taxes or no taxes, we would rather be in Oklahoma looking at the kind of school buildings we have here than to be in any state that touches Oklahoma looking at the kind of school buildings they have there.

The attempted lynching of a negro in Indiana so soon after the actual lynching of one in Kansas proves nothing except that race prejudice is not a matter of climate and geographic parallels.

Congressmen are quoted as saying that they are entirely worn out and want to get away from Washington. Which vindicates the old saying that doing nothing is the most tiresome work of all.

During the daily debate in the senate Thursday one of the senators fainted. The public has felt faint for the longest time.

Last week we argued the Inter-Church Movement, this week we are debating overalls, next week—but what's the use.

Old Oklahoma was thirty one years old Thursday. Just the age Alexander was when he conquered the world.

Just one more month till commencement season will open and once again Italy will be lying over the Alps.

The State Press

Wapanucka World: Johnston county's commissioners are to be congratulated upon their exhibition of absolute fairness to all parties in ordering a new bond election and an extension of the proposed highway.

Daily Ardmoreite: "Senator Gore's Defense" appears editorially in the Tulsa World. Gore evidently has republican paper No. 2 behind him. For a long time the Lawton News played a lone hand in supporting the jester from Oklahoma. Thus far, however, we have not seen a democratic paper which has tendered its support to the man of many promises.

The Mangum Star: We are told the Oklahoma Socialists are preparing to celebrate when Oklahoma endorses Gore's war record; and for that reason the Socialists will not celebrate this year. All that noise the Socialists are making in favor of Gore only the more convinces the loyal citizens of his utter unworthiness. Several of them have even informed the Editor of this great newspaper that we ought to link our own political destinies with such immoral, unpatriotic political degenerates as Gore and Reed are declared to be.

Oklahoma City Times: William Jennings Bryan is to be a delegate from Nebraska to the democratic national convention. Although Senator Hitchcock is the choice of Nebraska democrats for president, the Hitchcock forces were unable to keep Mr. Bryan from the Nebraska delegation. And no one familiar with the Bryan career will doubt that the "great commoner" will be a larger figure in the convention than Senator Hitchcock. As a presidential aspirant, Senator Hitchcock is a favorite son but whatever his faults or virtues, Mr. Bryan is a national figure, and one whose power in conventions is well understood.

COUNTRY GIRL, LURED FROM HOME SUICIDE IN TULSA

TULSA, Okla., April 26.—Here is a little story, selected from the news of the day in Tulsa.

It is not an unusual story—for Tulsa.

Rather it is but one of too many such stories which come to the attention of reporters as they make their daily search for news.

Ruth Reed WAS an innocent country girl. She is a type altogether too common in our city.

Her betrayer is a man known to many people in Tulsa. Welfare workers knew him—and tore the girl from his dirty grasp. But he lived his vile practices until they, the unconstituted authorities of the city, found him out.

Then Ruth died, but read her story:

"The wages of sin is death" reads a sentence in the Bible and, mumbled this prophecy over and over again, Ruth Reed, a pretty country girl from Russellville, Ark., last night paid the inevitable penalty rather than go to jail.

She had been lured from her little home on the banks of the Arkansas river by a suave stranger, induced to come with him to Tulsa, deserting her uncle and aunt in order that she might "live like a royal lady"—and have plenty of pretty clothes.

And now she is dead and there is a great sorrow today in the cottage by the river in the tiny Arkansas village. Her betrayer is under indiction by the federal grand jury, charged with a violation of the Mann Act. He may be sent to prison for a short term if the federal officers succeed in apprehending him. But Ruth Reed is gone.

Story a Short One.

The story is short—and sordid. Last night Detective E. F. Besit visited the Younkman drug store on West Fourth St. and told Ruth, who was employed there, that "she was wanted at the station." Thirty minutes later the girl was dead from the effect of drinking carboic acid.

"Just a minute, please," Ruth said wearily when the detective summoned her. "I want to get my coat and hat."

She stepped back of the prescription counter.

"The wages of sin is death," she muttered—and reached for a bottle of the poison.

"The wages of sin is death," death—that's what the Salvation Army preachers at Second and Main streets said the other night," she improvised and hid the bottle under her dress.

"I'm ready, the wages of sin—," she told the detective as she stepped from behind the counter.

Welfare Workers Interested.

It was a short trip to the police station. Ruth knew the way for she had been there before. Indeed, her life the past week has just been one of continual visit either to the police station or to the federal building where she testified against the man who induced her to leave home. The jurors "seemed very angry at the man," she told some of her friends. Welfare workers also heard about the case. They had been instrumental in freeing her from his influence and starting her on a new life, with a position. But—"the wages of sin is death."

All the way to the station Ruth mumbled this.

"The Wages of Sin."

"I'd sooner die than go to jail," she told the detective, dry-eyed.

"The wages of sin—"

Once in the station, the officers started to take the sixteen-year old girl upstairs to the women's ward. The man who grasped her arm turned his head just a moment. Ruth whipped the bottle from the folds of her skirt, extracted the cork and drank the contents. She groaned slightly. The policeman turned and grasped the bottle. The slight, worn-out figure crumpled suddenly and fell to the steps. An ambulance was hastily called but Ruth died on the way to the hospital.

Ambulance attendants declared that in her delirium she muttered her Bible quotation over and over again.

At first a story of a harmless quarrel with another girl in the Younkman drug store was advanced to explain Ruth's suicide. But the other girl scouted the story. Their quarrel hadn't been a real quarrel at all—and they were friends again before Ruth was summoned to the station for the last time.

The real story of Ruth's suicide is the one told here.

Federal officers say Ruth's is but one of altogether too many similar stories to come to light during the exhaustive vice investigation which the grand jury has conducted here.

The grand jury has just voted true bills against 145 alleged violators of the vice laws, the majority of them residents of Tulsa.

It Can't Be Helped

It is in one of the Josephine Daskam Bacon's books that a little boy frightens a little girl into a faint by telling her that dog's tails are short because they are bitten off when the dog is a puppy. The boy, though a convinced realist, was nevertheless moved to compunction at the little girl's distress. So he wrote her a note and said:

"I'm sorry they bites them off!—but they do!"

YOU MUST FORGET

By Harry Hampton Williams

You must not weep through long, unfruitful days,
For radiant visions blown to dreamless dust;
For hopes full high you cherished long and dear
The mob hath stamped beneath its feet unjust;
For that your ship, long wrecked on alien sands,
Hath perished by the wind and wave away;
For that the care you gave with loving hands
Remembered is no more to you today;
Although these things your wounded soul beset,
You must forget, my friend, you must forget.

The part of folly that one time you played,
And wrote the flaming brand of silly fool
Upon the record where who runs may read,
And scorn you by the every written rule;
The time you played the scheming knave and stung
Your own self to the inmost core of you;
The time you knuckled when you should have flung
The gauntlet to your foe, aiming true:—
Tho' these their cordons grim would round you set,
You must forget, my friend, you must forget.

The chance to do the kindly deed that day
You let go by as light as blossoms blown;
The friend you loved who turned his face away
When all your love for him had stronger grown;
The thing you spoke of him, your fellow man,
That time your anger ran a blazing flame;
The slanders there that through the village ran
As liars banded round your own good name;—
Hold not your heart in vengeance or regret,
All these, my friend, you must, you must forget.

The flush of pain that swept the loving eyes
At your neglect that long regretful day;
Your burning hour in lone Gethsemane
By that far grave, when prayers seemed vain to pray;
The love you gave and found no recompense;
That which you took and paid no kindly heed;
The hands you fain had held full tenderly,
Denied you when your heart was like to bleed;
The long-lost lips once yours in gladness met;—
These, too, my friend, you must, you must forget.

Waste not your meed of strength in useless tears
Beyond the day that wrung them from your eyes;
No moment lose you from the task in hand
To weep because they swore your truths were lies
For every service of your strength and time
You need today—your last red throb of will;—
And so, herein, in all solemnity,
By any hope that bideth with you still—
By whatso'er your heart holds fondly yet,
I charge you, friend, forget, forget, forget.

Liberty Theatre Is To Show "Virtuous Wives" Story of Owen Johnson

The Liberty Theatre has contracted to show, beginning today, Miss Anita Stewart's First National production, "Virtuous Wives," adapted from the two million edition book of the same title by Owen Johnson.

"Virtuous Wives" is described as a truthful story of married life in New York society. According to the author, in the introduction to his story, a virtuous wife is becoming an extinct specie of femininity under present-day conditions. The reasons for this, as described in his novel, have been included in the screen adaptation. Miss Stewart makes her return to the American screen after an absence of several months in the role of Amy Forrester, the "only member of a social set to whom pleasure is young". As the wife of Andrew Forrester, and obsessed only with the idea of constant and uninterrupted amusement, she appears in the role of the young society matron who finally is brought to a realization that unbridled pleasure is but the ash of happiness.

Has All-Star Support Supporting Miss Stewart in "Virtuous Wives" are four stars of the present New York theatrical season. Conway Tearle plays the part of Andrew Forrester, money-maker; Edward Arden is seen in the role of Rudolph Delabarre; Mrs. DeWolf Hopper plays the part of his wife, Irma Delabarre, and William Boyd appears as Monte Bracken, social waster.

Unmarried Korean men are not allowed to wear hats.

A committee of eleven women visited the plant of the Ada Cleaning and Dye Works. Each of them, upon entering, expressed astonishment at the mammoth array of machinery confronting them. Our foreman showed them through and explained in detail the workings of each machine. One of them declared that she was very much surprised to learn that so much money could be invested in machinery for cleaning clothes. We thank these ladies for their visit. We feel that they are eleven customers to depend upon. Come in and let us show you.

SURRENDERED GERMAN BATTLESHIP IS TO BE TURNED OVER TO THE UNITED STATES

The Oostfriesland

The Oostfriesland was one of the first German battleships delivered at the Fifth of Fourth under the Treaty of Versailles. Ultimately the vessel will be turned over to the American government. Her length is 546 feet and her displacement is 22,800 tons.

Spring Classic

The publicity man for the Ada Cleaning and Dye Works set his muse to working last night and the following poem is the result. Read it:

A fight in the night, with the town all asleep,
The moon under cover, no shadows to creep,
Wild tales of the battle and counts of the blows,
All scrambled and jumbled 'till nobody knows,
A shootin' and cuttin' and fighting with might,
A dirty and bloody and horrible sight,
A tale to be told in whispers and awe,
To all open ears but those of the law,
And light came and morn and bespoke a new day,
And men grabbed their clothing and began to array,
Themselves for their tasks and their toil upon earth,
All filled with high spirits and cheerful spring mirth,
And down to the village they wended their way,
And harketh the gossip to woefully say:
Blood and guns,
Dead men's eyes,
Blows and runs,
Battle cries.

And down in the gutter there lay all the dead,
With dagger stabbed hearts and horrible heads,
"And eye for an eye—" an old family row
Starting from quarrels over an old milk cow.
No, No! Not that. A debt unpaid,
Or was it a breach of a contract made?
Or was it something that happened today,
Something that called for lives to pay.
A fight to the death,
A giving of breath.

A scramble and jumble 'till nobody knows,
Wild tales of the battle and counts of the blows,
And each told it different and each told it wrong,
Yet all eyes were open from the sound of the gong.
And he that slept while the battle was staged,
Harkened to the jam till his senses were enraged.
"Give us the facts,
Tell us the truth,
How many whacks,
Where is your proof?"

And then came the rush, each with a yell,
Roaring and jabbering and trying to tell,
All about this and some about that,
How come the men to go to the mat,
How many blows and shots from the gun,
How many heads crushed, how many run,
Some said twenty, some said ten,
Some said white, some said negro men,
Now who knows,
Who can tell,
Just how many,
Blows that fell.

No one can, the truth is gone,
Each one told the story wrong,
And nowhere could a mind get right,
Concerning details of the fight,
And on and on it would have gone,
With every item put down wrong,
Had not two eyes been there to see,
And tell the tale to you and me.

For down amongst the crowd that night,
There was a man who saw the fight,
And late that day the Ada News,
Came out and quelled our maddening blues,
They gave the details, all the facts,
How many shots and how many whacks,
And all the tales that went before,
Proved to be a mad uproar.

The News pays good old U. S. dough,
In hiring men to see and know,
What happens here and happens there,
And they give it to us for street car fare.
So if another fight is had,
I'll never listen to the mad,
Uproaring crowd upon the street,
I'll wait and read the evening sheet. — J. B. S.

OKLAHOMA BRANCH OF FED. RESERVE BANK READY

By the Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 26.—The Oklahoma City branch of the Kansas City federal reserve bank is almost ready for business.

C. E. Daniels of Kansas City, former assistant cashier of the federal reserve bank there, will come shortly to Oklahoma City to act as manager of the branch, it has been announced, following the return of Ralph O. Wunderlich from Kansas City. Wunderlich will act as cashier of the Oklahoma branch.

According to statements of William Mee, one of the directors of the new bank, it will be opened as soon as transit machine already ordered reach the city. Mr. Mee was inclined to believe that some weeks delay cannot be obviated. All other equipment to go into the bank is in the city, it is understood.

L. H. Farhart, who also was connected with the Kansas City bank, was first chosen to be manager of the local branch. He resigned to accept the management of the Omaha, Neb., branch bank.

OKLAHOMA BANKERS ARE WARNED TO BE CONSERVATIVE

By the Associated Press

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., April 26.—Warning to Oklahoma bankers to be conservative in their financial projects, to keep their money at home if possible and to rely on themselves for support is contained in a letter sent to all state banks by Fred G. Dennis, state banking commissioner. Difficultly in obtaining loans in federal reserve banking centers is given by Mr. Dennis as the reason for his plea to bankers for individual caution.

Banking Commissioner Dennis' letter says in part: "I cannot impress upon you too forcibly the necessity of your not creating a condition with your institution whereby it will become necessary for you to borrow money or rediscount your paper. The financial outlook does not warrant your assuming lines of credit are not available for you to use."

Dennis concludes his letter by requesting that Oklahoma bankers take "only such loans as are necessary for the legitimate operations of business concerns and farming industries in your immediate vicinity."

6,000 HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS TO NORMAN

By News' Special Service:

NORMAN, Okla., April 26.—Between 5,000 and 6,000 Oklahoma high school students will attend the sixteenth annual interscholastic meet at the University of Oklahoma April 29, 30, and May 1, Edgar Meacham, chairman of the interscholastic meet committee, announces. Up to Tuesday, April 27, 153 high schools had entered contestants in the various events, including debate, oratory, music, domestic science, domestic art, manual training, baseball, tennis and the track and field events. Special railroad and sleeping accommodations have been secured.

A City of Tents. Eighty tents have been loaned the state university by C. F. Barrett, adjutant general of the Oklahoma national guard. These tents were transported to Norman by Captain Carl Baehr, commandant of the R. O. T. C., and a model tent city laid out on the Sooner campus. At least 700 athletes will be cared for while attending the meet in these tents.

The Oklahoma railway company has agreed to furnish all necessary cars to transport students to and from Oklahoma City on the interurban, President Stratton D. Brooks announces. Railroad companies have also made special provisions to handle the thousands of Oklahoma high school students who will attend the meet.

100 Quartets Entered. At least 100 quartets have been entered as well as many orchestras, bands, glee clubs and other musical organizations. Debating for the state high school championship started Monday afternoon, April 26. Meacham stated this week that 2,000 contestants alone would attend and that this number might be increased at the last moment. In 1919 there were more than 1,600 entrants.

The University of Oklahoma will be turned over to the high school students of this state this week, Dr. Brooks announces. As this is the largest gathering of high school students each spring west of the Mississippi river, the eyes of the high school world will be turned toward Oklahoma's state university during the last three days of the week, especially Saturday.

Umpires Announced. Umpires for the baseball games were announced last week by Coach Ben G. Owen, who will be in charge of the baseball tournament. Dick Gentry, Enid; Skivey Davis, Norman; Captain Briscoe, Hollis; Byron Little, Purcell, and Pete Fears, Eufaula, will officiate.

The Oklahoma Publishing company, publishers of the Daily Oklahoman and the Oklahoma City Times, through Charles J. Brill, sporting editor, has offered a large silver loving cup to the all-round athlete in Class A of the track and field events. The cup will be awarded permanently to the winner each year, Brill states.

SAGES TO SOLVE UNREST PROBLEM

UNITED STATES CHAMBER OF COMMERCE MEET SOON AT ATLANTIC CITY WILL TACKLE PROBLEM.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, April 25.—Means of stimulating production of the necessities of life, as a step toward the cure of American economic ills, will be the sole topic of discussion at the eighth annual conference of the United States Chamber of Commerce which will open in Atlantic City next Monday and continue until Thursday.

Holding that the responsibility for increased production rests equally upon capital, labor and agricultural interest, the program committee, it is announced here today, has arranged to have the representatives of each present their views on the question.

While the conference will deal primarily with material methods of increasing production, such as introduction of modern machinery, elimination of waste and the increased efficiency of distribution, the Chamber, it is prepared, it was learned today, to follow with a nation-wide effort to stir individual Americans to their duty to aid the movement in every line of endeavor.

Industrial unrest reported by members of the Chamber is without exception ascribed as the basic cause for the high prices the average worker has to pay for everything he purchases. Against this, however, is reported an apparent disposition on the part of the worker to reduce his effort during working hours or to lay off a part of each week or month. The convention will endeavor to work out a program by means of which both the manufacturer and the employee will be shown the necessity of augmenting output for the common good rather than as a method of increasing immediate profits.

"Work alone offers a cure for many of the ills left by the war," said Homer L. Ferguson, president of the Chamber. "Increased production means a larger share of the necessities and comforts for our own people; it means more for Europe, where people are dying for lack of food and clothes. In it lies the only means of making up the wastage of war."

"The duty of America is to produce. The responsibility lies on all alike, the merchant, the farmer, the worker. The contribution of each of these will be laid before our meeting."

The relation between railroads and national production, anti-trust law "restrictions," the evils of standardization, improved methods of taxation and foreign commerce will be among the topics discussed. Increased production abroad must be fostered, officials of the Chamber say, so that "goods, not notes," can be exchanged for the produce of the United States. In this connection an effort may be made to revive the proposal for an international financial conference with a view to finding some equitable remedy for the foreign exchange situation.

W. D. Simmons of St. Louis and R. W. Belcher of Washington, D. C., will address the conference on the subject of "Domestic Distribution," and Secretary Alexander of the department of Commerce, is expected to indicate how far the government can go to co-operate in the movement. Other speakers will be Geo. A. Post and William Fellowes Morgan of New York.

The farmer, for the first time in the history of the Chamber, will be represented as a distinct and important part of the nation's machinery. J. R. Howard, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, Clemons, Iowa, and Secretary Meredith of the department of agriculture will attend the conference.

The News Bible Lesson

2nd Kings 4:1-7.

Now there cried a certain woman of the wives of the sons of the prophets unto Elisha, saying, Thy servant my husband is dead; and thou knowest that thy servant did fear the Lord; and the creditor is come to take unto him my two sons to be bondsmen.

And Elisha said unto her, What shall I do for thee? tell me what hast thou in the house? And she said, Thine handmaid hath not any thing in the house, save a pot of oil.

And he said, Go, borrow three vessels abroad of all thy neighbors, even empty vessels: borrow not a few.

And when thou art come in, thou shalt shut the door upon thee and upon thy sons, and shalt pour into all those vessels, and thou shalt set aside that which is full.

So she went from him, and shut the door upon her two sons, who brought the vessels to her; and she poured out.

And it came to pass when the vessels were full, that she said unto her-son, Bring me yet a vessel. And he said unto her, There is not a vessel more. And the oil staid.

Then she came and told the man of God. And he said, Go, sell the oil, and pay thy debt, and live thou and thy children of the rest.

CREEK AND SEMINOLE CLAIMS ON JUNE 30

By the Associated Press

MUSKOGEE, Okla., April 26.—All claims against the Creek and Seminole Indians of Oklahoma must be made by June 30.

This announcement is made by the Indian agency here as the first step toward closing up the affairs of these two tribes. All claims for per capita payments and equalization payments must be made through the Indian agency, while other claims must be presented at Washington.

Affairs of the Cherokee nation were closed last November. The affairs of the Creeks and Seminoles will be closed before the first of next year, it is expected. The Cherokee funds remaining after the tribal affairs were cleaned up were given to the Cherokee orphan school but it has not been decided what will be done with the Seminole and Creek funds.

Printing Not High

A study of the advance cost of the various necessities of business show that commercial printing has advanced less than almost any other article. Letter Heads, Envelopes and Ruled Stationery is approximately twice as high as it was in 1914. Clothing and groceries have advanced from 100 per cent to 200 per cent. We are cutting our margin on printing to the quick, and we are giving the best service that can be bought.

CHICAGO, Ill., April 26.—George Weaver, third baseman of the Chicago White Sox, league champions tops the batters in the American league with an average of .600 acquired in three games. Weaver was at bat 10 times and cracked out six hits, according to unofficial averages made public today, and which includes Wednesday's game. "Babe" Ruth, last season's batting champion got off to a bad start and in the five games New York has played, the home run king, is hitting only .238, the result of five hits, including a double in 21 times at bat. C. Walker of Philadelphia who has been in four games has hit two circuit drives.

Elliott of Brooklyn with an average of .667 tops the National league batters. He made his mark in three games getting four hits in six times at bat. Z. Wheat, a team mate, however, is hitting .526 for five games, being credited with 10 hits in 19 times at bat. Roush, Cincinnati who won the batting honors last season in batting .222. This average was attained in five games, in which he was at bat 18 times and made 4 hits.

Ellis, Birmingham, who has played in six games, is out in front of the batters of the Southern Association. He made 14 hits in 26 times at bat for an average of .538.

NORTH CAROLINA TO ACT SOON ON NAT'L SUFFRAGE

By the Associated Press

RALEIGH, N. C., April 26.—Action of the Democratic state convention recently adopting a platform plank for ratification of the woman suffrage amendment will be followed by a special session of the legislature about July 1.

Louisiana is the only state to have a session before North Carolina but suffrage leaders say no matter what action is taken in Louisiana it will have no effect on the fight for ratification in North Carolina.

If Louisiana were to act favorably it would make the 36th state but on account of some uncertainty over the ratification in Ohio legislature, because of a referendum involved.

suffrage advocates are anxious to have 37 states ratify the amendment.

Opinion is divided here as to what action the North Carolina legislature will take. In view of the fact that both political organizations in the state have adopted platforms including planks favoring suffrage, many party leaders believe the amendment will be ratified. Besides Governor Bickett, many Democratic party leaders in the state have come out for the amendment, including Secretary Daniels, Senator Simmons and Congressman Hoy. The legislature is overwhelmingly Democratic.

Opponents of suffrage believe the amendment will either be defeated in the legislature or by the voters of the state. They think the legislature will follow Senator Overman's idea and propose a state constitutional amendment giving women the vote, thus putting the suffrage question up to the voters, who, they believe, will reject it.

DADDY'S EVENING FAIRY TALE

THE SNOW FLAKES.

"Let us fall gently, slowly, and let us be fine and big and dignified," said Leader Snow Flake.

"All right," said the other Snow Flakes. "We all agree." So the Snow Flakes fell down to the earth slowly and quietly, and every flake was very big. They looked very dignified indeed, and very fine as they fell so slowly, without any hurrying at all. "I hope," said Leader Snow Flake, "that Mr. Wind won't come along and hurry us up."

"I hope he won't," said one of the other Snow Flakes. "We won't be dignified then," said Leader Snow Flake. "And we won't be superior. We'd only be an angry bustling blizzard."

"Ah," said one of the other Snow Flakes, "let us send a wish to old man Wind by the little Breeze Brothers."

"Did you call us?" asked the Breeze Brothers.

"We did," said the Snow Flakes. "Are you going to give a party and may we deliver the message for you?" asked the Breeze Brothers.

"No, we aren't giving a party," said Leader Snow Flake, "but we want to have a fine, dignified snow storm, a superior snow storm, for the earth people, and if Mr. Wind should come along and decide to have things his own way, it would upset matters greatly."

"Well," said the Breeze Brothers, "do you want us to ask him not to come around and bother you?"

"You've guessed it," said Leader Snow Flake.

"We'd be glad enough to do it," said the Breeze Brothers, "only—"

"Oh, don't say 'only,'" begged the Snow Flakes. "Pray do not make any excuse."

"We're now making one," said the Breeze Brothers, "because we don't want to oblige you, but sometimes, especially in these days of the winter, we don't know what Mr. Wind is going to do next."

"And we wouldn't even get a chance to speak if he had decided he wanted some exercise. He would just blow us away and would say: 'Be off, little Breezes, I want to give a good old rushing, blowing wind to the earth and the trees and the snow and the air today. Go and play in the nursery, but don't come out today. For Daddy Wind is going to take a rushing, whirling trip today.'"

"But if he hasn't already started you will tell him, won't you?" asked the Snow Flakes.

"By all means," said the Breeze Brothers, and off they went.

Evidently Mr. Wind was not anxious to take one of his hard trips, for the wind didn't blow and the snow fell gently and quietly to the earth.

"We'll cheer up the country," said Leader Snow Flake, "for see how gray and lonely the ice-covered lake looks, and how cold and dry and hard the roads look and the dried-up grass on the hills."

"We will give everything a soft, warm, beautiful blanket of white snow."

"Yes, that is what we will do," said the little Snow Flakes, though they weren't so little after all. They were very big, but as Leader Snow Flake was bigger than any of them, he called them the little Snow Flakes, or his Snow Flake followers.

"It's so nice when we're feeling quite like this not to take part in a blizzard," said Leader Snow Flake. "Why, I feel no more like a blizzard than a child would feel like going to a dancing party if it woke up in the middle of the night. It would feel quite sleepy and wouldn't want to go to sleep again, and wouldn't feel at all like games and playing and dancing."

"So I don't feel like a blizzard, but this quiet snow storm just suits me."

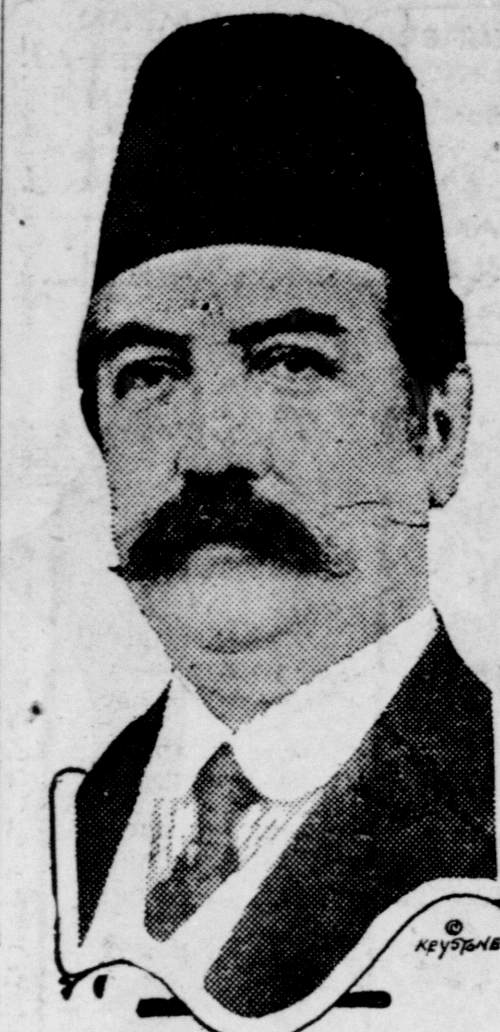

"It suits us, too," said the Snow Flake followers, "but you must never call a child 'it' again! That is quite incorrect."

"How He Treats His Sister."

"Come here, Johnnie," called his uncle. "I want to ask you a question. 'All right,' sang out Johnnie. 'Now,' said his uncle, 'do you treat your little sister as you should?' 'Sure,' said Johnnie. 'I even eat up her candy 'cause it makes her sick when she eats it.'"

"Beautiful Blanket."

When the Paper Doesn't Come

My father says the paper that he reads ain't put up right. He finds a lot of fault, he does, perusing it at night.

He says they ain't a single thing in it worth while to read. And that it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people need.

He tosses it aside and says it's strictly on the bum— But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He reads about the wedding, and he snorts like all git out; He reads the social doin's with a most derisive shout.

He says they make the papers for the women folks alone.

He'll read about the parties and he'll fume and fret and groan. He says of information it don't contain a crumb—

But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He's always first to grab it, and he reads it plumb clean thru. He doesn't miss an item or a want ad—that is true.

He says they don't know what we want—them darn newspaper guys—

I'm goin' to take a day some time an' go and put 'em wise. Sometimes it seems as tho they must be deaf, blind and dumb. But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

STATE INDUSTRIAL CHAIRMAN IS DEAD

By News' Special Service:

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 26.—Judge Wayman Crow Jackson, 65 years old, chairman of the state industrial commission, former United States commissioner at Muskogee, and pioneer law practitioner of Oklahoma, died at the New University hospital here yesterday morning at 11:35 o'clock. Judge Jackson is survived by his wife, a daughter 12 years old, and a son 15 years old, all of whom live in Muskogee, Mrs. Jackson arrived in Oklahoma City Saturday night to be with her husband who was then reported in a critical condition.

The body will be taken from the undertaking parlors to the state capitol this morning, where it will lie in state until 4 o'clock. Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock by Rt. Rev. Theodore Payne Thurston, bishop of the Oklahoma district of the Episcopal church. The body will be taken to Muskogee tonight accompanied by H. C. Myers and Baxter Taylor, the two remaining members of the state industrial commission, and other state officials. Burial will be in Muskogee.

Judge Jackson was born in Fayetteville, Ark., and moved to Muskogee in 1894. He was appointed by President Grover Cleveland as United States commissioner at Muskogee and served in that capacity for twelve years.

When statehood was granted to Oklahoma he was elected county judge of Muskogee county and served in that office one term. In 1910 he was elected representative to the Oklahoma state legislature from Muskogee county.

Active in Politics.

In 1915 when the state industrial commission was formed, he together with Judge A. A. McDonald of Hugo and Judge W. L. Blessing of Shawnee, was appointed to the commission by former Governor R. L. Williams. In February, 1919, he was reappointed to the commission and made chairman by Governor Robertson, in which position he was serving at the time of his death.

Judge Jackson has been closely associated with political and governmental affairs of the state during the time he has lived in Oklahoma. He helped organize the democratic party in the old Indian territory and spent much time working on the details and getting it on a working basis in the early days of territorial government. He is a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Elks lodge of Muskogee.

Bey of Chorus Beauties Appears in "Filmmusical Comedy"

"Oh, Boy!" One of the many enjoyable features promised in connection with "Oh, Boy!" Albert Capellani's "Filmmusical Comedy," co-starring June Caprice and Creighton Hale will be the appearance of a bevy of beauties recruited by Mr. Capellani from the various Broadway cabarets and musical comedy shows. The aggregation of girls represent four different well-known cabarets and five current Broadway musical comedy hits, including "Tumble In," "Good Morning, Judge," and "Listen Lester," and consists of sixteen hand-picked beauties, selected with a discrimination that would do credit to Florence Ziegfeld.

The girls form a chorus that appears at various intervals throughout the picture and although bereft of their voices, they disport themselves in a lively manner and make good use of their training in the gentle art of "jazz" dancing. The work of rehearsing the girls in the dance numbers was entrusted to Albert Doris, assistant to Mr. Capellani, who prior to assuming the more or less dignified title of assistant director, spent some fifteen years as a musical comedy stage director.

So it looks as if our local picture fans were going to be vastly entertained when Manager George presents "Oh, Boy!" at the American Theatre for a two-day run, commencing today.

One Lone, Little Kiss Precipitated An Awful Muddle

One lone little "Just for fun" kiss stirred up an awful muddle at Roanoke, Va., the other day. Not since Paris planted the historic kiss on the lips of Helen of Troy and precipitated the Trojan war has such a muss been caused by an osculatory salutation as confronted the Norfolk & Western railway.

A clerk named Brady, a married man, kissed a Miss Emanuelson "just for fun." Both are members of unions. W. T. Divers, chief time-keeper and a non-union man joked about it. Union members declared Divers ought to be discharged. The railway officials refused. Twelve thousand union clerks, shopmen, trainmen and brakemen were called out as a result.

The union members insisted that Divers be discharged. At a hearing by the officials, clerks testified that while Divers was an excellent workman he was too harsh and ungentlemanly in his behavior. A Miss McGee, also a member of the union declared that Rivers had spoken harshly to her and caused her to cry.

Mrs. Parks Is Gone.

Mrs. Annie Parks has given up her residence in Ada, as far as anybody is able to find out.

A reporter for the News called at the house on East Main this morning where the kindergarten hotel had been going on, but the house was in the same condition as his skull. The neighbors stated they did not know her present whereabouts. The reporter then called on the police and they were unable to give him any information as to her new abode. He then went to Hon. R. C. Roland, erstwhile attorney for Mrs. Parks, who replied that he ceased functioning as her attorney months ago and "he hoped she had gone to thunder never to return."

The reporter then approached several ministers in the city to learn of the disposition of Mrs. Annie and they severally replied that they were not interested.

The reporter then recalled an old rhyme he knew which ran somewhat as follows:

Is she went or is she gone?
Have she left I all alone?
Will she ne'er come back to we
Or us e'er go to she?

It cannot was.

Only Crafty Rich Can Afford Spuds Of the Latest Model

If you are a great lover of the once plebian spud—or, as the classics say, tuber—and do not enjoy a substantial income, then sad news is pending.

New potatoes appeared on the local market Saturday. A new price likewise ambled to the center of the rostrum. These potatoes came from the fertile soil of Texas and Florida. Nobody knows where the price came from. But one should be at least a millionaire should he attempt to feast upon these young murrhies thrice daily.

The price today for freshly grubbed spuds is $15 a bushel. There was a time when the old gent at the corner grocery would sell you a bucketful of new potatoes for 15 cents. There was a time, too, when a good suit could be obtained for a figure less than the original cost of the Brooklyn bridge.

There was a time—but what's the use? New potatoes will cost you $15 a bushel and merchants say the supply is limited at that price.

This Printer Seeking a Job.

In a certain town in southwest Missouri, a newspaper office received an order for some public sale bills from a prominent farmer, living near Sikeston. The order was given June 29, and the work promised for June 30, 1919.

June 30 being the last day before the prolonged prohibition drouth, the printer decided he would take one shot of "hootch" in honor of the occasion. One glass brought company, and the wine flowed freely for some time. Suddenly the printer thought of his promised public sale bill job he had promised for that day. His legs felt slightly wobbly, but his head was as clear as a bell. He set the job, read the proof, printed the bills, and wrapped them up, preparatory to delivery.

The farmer called for his job, paid his bill, and started tacking up his bills. This is what he found on the bills: "Twenty-five cows, broke to work; 41 head of cultivators, coming in soon; 10 head of shoveling boards, with scoops by side; 8 piano mares; 120 rods of canvas belting, better than new; Delaval cow with ice cream attachment; McCormick binder, in foal; Poland China bobbed, due to farrow in April; 14 head of chickens with grass seed attachments, in good work order; two J. I. Case riding heifers, good as new; spraying outfit, can be ridden by children; 15 billy boats 70 bushel capacity with spraying nozzle, and other attachments; many other articles too numerous to mention, which I expect to get at night between now and date of sale."—Harrisonville (Mo.) Democrat.

More than two billion passengers rode on all the New York car lines during the fiscal year just ended. Of this number it is said that several got seats.—Tacoma Ledger.
